

Taking Care of Tomorrow's Church TODAY!

Both of my parents graduated from and were ordained shortly after I was born. While my father followed God's call down another path, my mother served two and sometimes three rural churches in the Midwest.

Growing up, we never had the "money" conversation—how much my parents made or how much debt they carried. I do remember one day during my eighth or ninth grade year—about 15 years after they graduated—they celebrated after finally paying off their student loans.

Money was one of several reasons I ignored my call to parish ministry. I knew we couldn't afford school. Carrying the burden of student loans can be crippling, and it can stand in the way of a good pastor living out their call by God.

Because of the generosity of the church I am serving, as well as the Iowa Conference and the Eastern Iowa Association (prior to FFL), I was able to follow God's call to ordination without enduring the burden of student loans.

Thank you to all who share your abundance to help further the leadership in our local churches.

— Blessings, Rev. Heidi Hulme, Pastor Faith UCC, Davenport, IA & Funding Future Leadership Chair

Special Offering—Funding Future Leadership—February 23

<http://ucctcm.org/donateiowa>
Contact Jo Ordway: Iowa Conference Office
5609 Douglas Ave. Des Moines, IA 50310
515.277.6369 jo@ucctcm.org

Taking Care of Tomorrow's Church TODAY!

Both of my parents graduated from and were ordained shortly after I was born. While my father followed God's call down another path, my mother served two and sometimes three rural churches in the Midwest.

Growing up, we never had the "money" conversation—how much my parents made or how much debt they carried. I do remember one day during my eighth or ninth grade year—about 15 years after they graduated—they celebrated after finally paying off their student loans.

Money was one of several reasons I ignored my call to parish ministry. I knew we couldn't afford school. Carrying the burden of student loans can be crippling, and it can stand in the way of a good pastor living out their call by God.

Because of the generosity of the church I am serving, as well as the Iowa Conference and the Eastern Iowa Association (prior to FFL), I was able to follow God's call to ordination without enduring the burden of student loans.

Thank you to all who share your abundance to help further the leadership in our local churches.

— Blessings, Rev. Heidi Hulme, Pastor Faith UCC, Davenport, IA & Funding Future Leadership Chair

Special Offering—Funding Future Leadership—February 23

<http://ucctcm.org/donateiowa>
Contact Jo Ordway: Iowa Conference Office
5609 Douglas Ave. Des Moines, IA 50310
515.277.6369 jo@ucctcm.org

